

Title: Distribution breaker in China in Niger

Generated on: 2026-05-23 09:28:32

Copyright (C) 2026 B&K BESS. All rights reserved.

Will Niger's junta government resolve disputes with Chinese energy companies?

Foreign Minister Wang Yi has urged Niger 's junta government to resolve disputes with Chinese energy companies operating in the West African nation through dialogue. Wang made the remarks during talks with his Nigerien counterpart Bakary Yaou Sangare in the central Chinese city of Changsha on Wednesday.

Are Chinese ties holding firm in post-coup Niger?

Following the launch of a pipeline project in November backed by PetroChina, the publicly-listed arm of CNPC, linking the same oilfield to the port of Cotonou in neighboring Benin, the new deal is another sign that Chinese ties appear to be holding firm in post-coup Niger. Get a daily email packed with the latest China-Africa news and analysis.

Why did Niger's ruling junta expel three Chinese oil executives?

Niger's ruling junta in March expelled three Chinese oil executives working for China National Petroleum Corporation and CNPC subsidiaries over salary disparities between expatriate and lower-paid local workers.

What role does China play in Niger's oil industry?

China has played a central role in building Niger's oil sector, beginning with a 2008 production-sharing agreement between Niamey and the state-owned China National Petroleum Corporation. That deal led to the construction of a refinery and, later, a pipeline from the Agadem oil field to the coast of Benin.

For Chinese enterprises and institutions operating in Niger and the broader Sahel region, a crucial question arises: How should ...

Following the launch of a pipeline project in November backed by PetroChina, the publicly-listed arm of CNPC, linking the same oilfield ...

A China-backed pipeline that would make Niger an oil-exporting country is being threatened by an internal security crisis and a diplomatic dispute with neighboring Benin, both ...

The article portrays the pipeline as a symbol of China's technological and economic prowess, reinforcing a "win-win cooperation" ...

Website: <https://www.bktrucking.pl>

Distribution breaker in China in Niger

Source: <https://www.bktrucking.pl/Wed-04-May-2022-7963.html>

Website: <https://www.bktrucking.pl>

